Volume XLVIII—Number 47

BETHEL, MAINE, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1942

Single Copy—FIVE CENTS

NO BETHEL PRISONERS IN SUN. WAR GAME

Company 4, M. S. G. R. made a very good showing in the maneuvers held Sunday in Hebron and Minot. Although it was reported that numerous Reserve Company men were taken prisoner by the opposing State Guard, there were no Bethel men in the number. It is said that the final decision was in favor of the "invading" State Guard forces.

Five companies of the State Guard and two companies of the State Reserve were allied against Reserve companies of Bethel, Bryant Pond, West Paris, South Paris and Norway. It being the first event of any size in which the Reserve has participated, there was more or less confusion in their operations but apparently their opponents also had their troubles.

Major Harry Lyons of Paris headed the Oxford County reserve companies, while Lieut. Col. David Hayes of Auburn commanded the State Guard, planned the attack, and served as chief umpire.

A WEEK OF THE WAR

President Roosevelt in a radio address, said that "During the past two weeks we have had a great deal of good news and it would seem that the turning point of this war has at last been reached. But this is no time for exultation. There is no time for anything now but fighting and working to win."

Navy Secretary Knox reported the following total damage inflicted on Japan in the Battle of the Solomons Nov. 12-15: sunk—2 battleships (1 may have been a heavy cruiser), 6 heavy cruisers, 2 light cruisers, 6 destroyers, 8 transports, 4 cargo transports; damaged—2 battleships, 1 cruiser, 7 destroyers. The Japanese lost between 20,000 and 40,000 troops, as well as large numbers of naval personnel. U. S. losses were 2 light cruisers and 6 destroyers sunk.

Mr. Knox said U. S. forces are in complete control of the area in and around Guadalcanal and "our hold on the island is very secure." The President said the battle is a major victory. War Secretary Stimson said Army aircraft from Australia and New Caledonia played an active and effective role in the battle.

Allied headquarters in North Africa reported that American, British and French troops are driving into Tunisia from all sides, closing in a ring around the northeastern triangle of Bizerte and Tunis. The British First Army, reinforced by U. S. and French units, engaged Axis mechanized columns in Tunisia and drove them back, the War Department announced. Gen. MacArthur's headquarters reported Nov. 21 that American and Australian forces are driving hard against the Japanese, who are pinned along the northeastern coast of New Guinea between Buna and Gona on a narrow beachhead extending 20 miles along the coast and 6 miles inland.

Selective Service
President Roosevelt ordered registration for Selective Service for all young men who have reached the age of 18 since July 1, as follows: those born July 1 to Aug. 1, 1924, inclusive, to register the week beginning Dec. 11; those born Sept. 1 to Oct. 31, 1924, to register Dec. 13-24; those born Nov. 1 to Dec. 31, 1924, to register Dec. 26-31. Young men reaching 18 after Jan. 1 will register on their birthdays. Selective Service Headquarters ordered distribution of questionnaires to 18 and 19-year-old registrants who will be inducted as their order numbers are reached.

The Armed Forces
Navy Surgeon General McIntire said Navy fatalities among the wounded at Guadalcanal are less than one percent, compared with an average of seven percent wounded in World War I—due principally to use of new medical discoveries in treatment of wounds. The President appointed Brig. Gen. Frederick H. Osborn, Chief of Special Services of the War Department, as chairman of a committee post-war education of young men whose school years are interrupted

EXPECT TO REOPEN BETHEL PLANE OBSERVATION POST

1st Lt. Richard Patterson of Ground Force Aero Observation, in charge of observation posts in this district, and John Compass, Sub-County Director of observation posts, visited posts in this district from Bethel to Dixfield Monday afternoon. Lt. Patterson stressed the needs of observation posts being manned, and in the near future hopes to have the observation post at Bethel fully manned once again.

GOULD ACADEMY FOOTBALL BANQUET HELD LAST WEEK

The annual football banquet of Gould Academy was held in the main dining room at the Students' Home at 7 o'clock last Wednesday evening, Nov. 18. The whole football squad who stayed at the complete season, and male members of the faculty were in attendance. The tables were attractively decorated with place cards made by members of the Girls' Athletic Association, with the following girls from that organization serving as waitresses: Louisa Bacon, Barbara Poole, Nora Chipman, Mary Lou Hamilton, Anne Aldrich, Margaret Chaffee, Carolyn Wight, Barbara Coolidge.

The principal speaker of the evening was Coach Adam Walsh of Bowdoin, who was introduced by Headmaster Elwood F. Ireland. Mr. Walsh explained why the colleges are accepting as freshmen, seniors in the middle of their last year in high school, and also explained that Bowdoin had been selected as one of 10 colleges to offer courses in meteorology to students who can qualify, the chief pre-requisite being A's in mathematics. He then described the advantages of football as a conditioner for military service. Following his talk he showed motion pictures of the Bates-Bowdoin game, and also the Maine-Bowdoin game, which was followed by a brief question period.

by entrance into the armed forces. The President increased the maximum size of the WAAC's from 25,000 to 150,000 women. More than 1,000,000 soldiers have applied for benefits on behalf of their families under the Servicemen's Dependents Allowance Act.

The Office of War Information announced 48,956 members of U. S. armed forces have been officially reported as killed, wounded, missing or prisoners since the war began exclusive of the African campaign. The War and Navy Departments organized the United States of America Typhus Commission, headed by Read Admiral Charles S. Stephenson, to "function as a board of strategy against typhus, the common foe of all armies and of all people."

Production
War Production Chairman Nelson announced aircraft production in 1943 has been fixed at more than double the 1942 output. At the same time he appointed a new top board of aircraft production supervision under the chairmanship of WPB Vice Chairman Charles E. Wilson. Mr. Nelson issued a statement asking war workers to stay on their jobs Thanksgiving Day. The WPB Smaller War Plants Division reported it has completed its operating organization and now has the staff necessary to carry out its work.

Rationing
The OPA cut the value of the basic A gasoline ration coupon from 4 to 3 gallons in the District of Columbia and 16 of the now-rationed Eastern States. B and C books were not affected. Those motorists who, because of the change of the value of the A coupon, are unable to obtain "essential mileage" may now apply for supplemental rations. To allow motorists extra time in which to dispose of idle tires in excess of five per passenger car, the OPA postponed the deadline for idle tire turn-ins until Dec. 1. A total of 2,872,000 tires had been turned in by motorists at the close of business Nov. 14.

U. S. Army helmets are of non-magnetic steel and don't affect compasses carried by troops.

THE WEAKEST LINK IN BETHEL'S FIRE DEPT.

(A Contributed Editorial)

The epidemic of fires that has visited Bethel of late has proven beyond doubt that our fire department is a good one. Much loss of property and perhaps life has been averted by prompt and efficient action.

Our fire fighting equipment is modern and the firemen take pride in keeping it in the best of condition. Many of the crew are recent volunteers but Fire Chief Luxton has them well trained and speedy.

Our fire alarm is one long blast of the fire siren whistle for fires out of town and two blasts for fires in the village, three for blackouts, etc. This alarm is located on the roof of the up town fire house and is sounded by the telephone operator. If the signal fails to function and the girl at the switchboard is obliged to give the alarm by telephoning the individual members of the crew, this creates a serious slow down.

Firemen and other citizens are complaining that they do not hear the alarm. Is it wearing out? In zero weather it frequently refuses to blow. To be sure people at Northwester Bethel or Swan Hill may hear it with clarity but the firemen on Mill Hill or Church and Railroad streets do not. People in the Bethel Theatre seldom hear it. At the trial blackout last week Air Raid Wardens knocked on doors in various parts of the village and informed the surprised householders that a blackout was being practiced. Several had not heard the warning!

Without a dependable alarm all the efficiency of the firemen amounts to little. Fires are always, emergencies and the time to prepare is beforehand. A few minutes delay in getting assembled for action may result in wide-spread disaster.

The following incomplete list of firemen shows that they live in far flung sections of the village and convince us that a louder and more dependable alarm is needed.

DECEMBER 4 SET AS FARM ELECTION DAY

December 4 is farm election day for farmers participating in the agricultural conservation program, according to Fred J. Nutter, chairman of the Maine State committee, Agricultural Adjustment Agency.

On that day election meetings will be held in communities throughout Oxford county to select members of community committees. Mr. Nutter urges that all farmers who are taking part in the conservation program, vote to make sure the best qualified men are selected to serve on these committees. Because of the important place these committees fill in planning the farm program, and in assisting farmers to secure essential labor, materials, and equipment, it is necessary to have able representatives as members.

Exact meeting places and times for this county will be announced later.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS MUST BE MAILED EARLY THIS YEAR

The bulk of Christmas mail must be in the post offices by Dec. 1 this year if deliveries on time are to be assured, according to Smith W. Purdum, Second Assistant Postmaster General. Mr. Purdum is responsible to Postmaster General Frank C. Walker for smooth and efficient air and railway mail service.

Unprecedented wartime demands on the postal and transportation systems, plus a prospective record volume of Christmas mailings, were cited by Mr. Purdum as necessitating earlier mailings than ever before. "It is physically impossible for the railroads and airlines, burdened with vitally important war materials, to handle Christmas mailings as rapidly as in normal times," Mr. Purdum said. "If the bulk of parcels and greeting cards are held back until the usual time—the period of about Dec. 15 to 23—they simply cannot be distributed in time, and thousands of gifts will reach their destinations after Christmas."

In 1941, about 21,950 mail cars were required between Dec. 12 and 24 to deliver Christmas mail—enough cars to make a train 270 miles long. This year, the extra cars needed to move holiday mails are largely being used by the armed services, and a severe shortage is in prospect.

The postal service usually borrows about 2,500 trucks from the Army and other Government agencies, and rents about 10,000 from private truck owners, to handle the Christmas mails. This year, it will be extremely difficult to obtain enough of these vehicles to meet even a substantial part of the need. The Army needs its own trucks and private owners are reluctant to let someone else use their tires.

Railroads are cooperating by converting some hundreds of steel box cars and similar equipment for mail transportation and Joseph B. Eastman, Director of Defense Transportation, has ordered that the limit during the holiday season. But these measures cannot assure deliveries of gifts on time unless the public cooperates by mailing early and thus spreading the transportation load over a longer period than usual.

Mr. Purdum called attention to the task of the Post Office Department in moving millions of pieces of mail every day to and from soldiers, sailors and marines throughout the world. This extraordinary job must be kept current, even while the holiday rush of mailings is handled. Also, he pointed out, the postal establishment is operating with many thousands of inexperienced personnel, employed to take the place of men called to the armed services. The new employees naturally cannot handle the holiday mail jam with the smoothness and speed of the postal veterans whom they replace.

In view of all these handicaps to the service, Mr. Purdum added, postal patrons should mail their gifts by Dec. 1 if they wish to insure that their friends will not be disappointed at Christmas.

Meat slaughtered on farms for use in homes on the farms should be counted in the 2½ pound weekly sharing allowance, according to Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard. This applies to meat from cattle, calves, hogs, and sheep, except such "delicacies" as liver, kidneys, sweetbreads, feet, and heads.

THURSDAY NIGHT FIRE DAMAGES GARAGE

Bethel's fire department was called about 11:30 o'clock last Thursday night to Clarence Bennett's garage where a fire was making great headway in the office. The flames were discovered by Mrs. Harry Wilson and the firemen made a prompt appearance and had water on the fire in short order. The principal damage was in the room where the fire started, although the flames swept the repair room where a car and truck were located. The firefighters were able to keep the fire from the adjoining stock room and the flames barely pierced the roof, but there was a considerable loss in fixtures and accessories in the office.

Apparently the fire started in a wall switch. The entire loss is estimated at $1800. Work of rebuilding was begun Tuesday morning. The garage building was built in 1940 on the site of a garage which was destroyed by fire following a gasoline explosion.

MUST LEARN TO WALK SAY STATE POLICE

For the week of November 9th to November 16th there was a total of 13 accidents reported to State Police Headquarters, a decrease of 3 accidents over the previous week. There were 6 fatal, 7 personal injury and 5 property damage accidents. 7 of these accidents occurred in daylight and 11 after dark, 11 in rural and 7 in suburban section.

The greatest contributing causes for this week's accidents were "pedestrian in road" and "did not have right of way."

"I think I will walk to work tomorrow." That is what many American workers are saying these days because they are well informed about the shortage of transportation facilities. In fact, the great American public will have to learn how to walk again. A nation of motorists will have to become a nation of part time pedestrians.

If the citizens are wise they will begin to study the art of walking just as industriously as they studied the art of motoring. They will want to know, for example, that most pedestrians injured in traffic accidents are struck after dark. Also there are regulations in cities governing the pedestrian traffic such as cross-walks to walk on, and safety zones to stand in. The pedestrian traffic in the cities has become channeled and regulated because of the motor vehicle traffic problem. There will be tricks of the trade that Mr. Citizen will pick up as he learns to become a safe pedestrian. He will learn how to judge the speed of cars in relation to his own speed on foot. He will learn the art of keeping alert to the danger of passing automobiles at all times.

We urge all persons who plan to do more walking, whether they are workers, students, shoppers or hikers, to develop safe and sane walking habits. Walk safely and save your life.

Henry P. Weaver, Chief, Maine State Police. By Sergt. George I. Shaw, Director, Highway Safety Division.

The Maine U. S. D. A. War Board has been informed that the deadline for truck operators to obtain certificates of war necessity has been postponed to Dec. 1. Nov. 15 had previously been set as the deadline.

Tips On Baking Bread

THE flour shortage in the last war taught me a lesson, and if we have to face the same thing again in this war, we should all be prepared with plenty of recipes for homemade bread and with tricks to make bread baking a success. We can put up with substitute "meals" that much better.

For the very best results, bread should rise at a temperature of 82°. In winter, you'll have to turn the oven on for one minute, then turn it off and let bread rise in the oven; or, heat water to 100°, put it in a large pan and set pan of bread in water. It is also advisable to put flour in the oven and let it warm before using it.

The so-called "proving period" is essential for good bread. After bread has risen a second time, cut into desired number of loaves, make into little round circles and let stand for 20 minutes. Then, if the dough isn't sticky and if you can hear it snap, it's the right consistency to mold into loaves. Before putting in the oven, brush top of each loaf with butter.

It takes two and a half hours for bread to rise at 82°, and an hour to bake at a temperature of 350°. When bread comes out of the oven, brush top with grease again, remove from pan immediately and let cool thoroughly on a cake cooler, bottom down.

Plymouth Bread Recipe
½ cup yellow corn meal
2 cups boiling water
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup molasses
2 teaspoons salt
1 cake yeast
½ cup lukewarm water
4 cups sifted enriched white flour

Stir corn meal very slowly into boiling water, stirring constantly. Boil 5 minutes, add butter, molasses and salt. Cool when lukewarm, add the yeast which has been softened in ¼ cup of lukewarm water. Add the flour for a stiff dough. Knead well and let rise until double in bulk. Shape into two loaves, place in well greased loaf pans, let rise until it doubles in bulk again. Bake in preheated oven at 350° for 1 hour, on 2nd set of slides.

FACING THE FACTS ABOUT WAR FINANCE

No. 5 Fifth in a series of illustrated questions and answers compiled by the Tax Foundation, summarizes here the past, present and probable future taxes on the nation's industry.

The nation must rely upon its industry to meet an appreciable part of war costs but we must at the same time consider that we depend on it not only to produce the arms for victory but also, in the future, to produce the goods and employment for prosperity after victory. It is just about as important that we guard and preserve the sound fiscal structure of our industry as it is that we guard and secure a sound economy for our nation—they come pretty close to being the same thing. That is one of the aspects of war finance about which this series is intended to give the average American a better understanding.

DIVISION OF CORPORATION NET INCOME

FIGURES IN BILLIONS OF DOLLARS (CALENDAR YEARS)

Tax Foundation

1. What is the maximum in taxes that can be obtained from business corporations?

All profits except what is necessary to maintain the enterprise system, provide for maximum war production requirements and postwar adjustment needs.

2. What is the amount of income before taxes of business corporations?

Many business corporations operate at a loss. There are approximately 470,000 business corporations that have to report their income to the Treasury Department each year. During the period from 1931 to 1939 considerably less than 50% showed any operating income before taxes—the number varied from 18% of all reporting corporations in 1932 to 42% in 1935.

In three of the four years from 1936 to 1939 the operating income before taxes of this group of about 200,000 business corporations was approximately $7 billion—in the fourth year it was $4.9 billion. This compares with $11.6 billion for 1929. In 1940 the operating income before taxes was about $9.5 billion and the estimate for 1941 is about $14 billion. Under the stimulus of war production it will probably exceed the estimate for 1941, but under a program of price controls, priorities and the pressure of profit limitations it probably will not exceed $16 billion before taxes.

3. What are the needs for which industry must provide?

First, there is the need for working capital, that is, the money needed to buy materials and supplies, to meet its payroll, etc. Also, industry must provide for plant expansion and conversion and readjustment—for this it requires reserves. Then the corporation must set aside funds to pay its debts. And just as it must pay interest on the sums it has borrowed from the banks, from the government or other sources, it must pay dividends to those who have furnished the capital to make the industry possible.

4. What is the amount that corporations require for reserves?

The amount is dependent upon many factors—costs of readjustment and plant expansion, the development of new processes and, the regaining of markets. In the period from 1926 to 1929 corporations retained on the average over $4 billion a year. Production is now at a much higher level than in those prosperous years, yet the needs for maximum tax revenues compel exceptional risks. It is therefore estimated that a minimum of about $2.5 to $3 billion may be sufficient for reserves.

5. How much is required for dividends?

During the past six years corporation dividend payments have amounted to between $3.2 and $4.3 billion annually. If corporations are to pay their investors as little as was paid in any of these years a minimum of at least $3 billion would be required. This would be approximately half of the $5.9 billion paid in 1929.

6. How much would be available for taxes from corporations?

A maximum of $10 to $11 billion, representing every dollar of corporation profits above the minimum requirements just listed.

MAINE IN WASHINGTON

(from the office of Senator Ralph O. Brewster)

Manpower

Manpower and its proper allocation is the number one problem in Washington today. Various executive agencies and committees in Congress have reported on the matter in recent weeks and all are agreed that action is imperative.

When the report of the Truman Committee on Manpower was made, it was accorded very high praise by the New York Times in these words:

"In its combination of common sense, careful study, good judgment, good writing and political courage it is, indeed, altogether the best report that we have had from Congress since the outbreak of war. If the participation of Congress in the war program continues at this intellectual and moral level, it will quickly restore its prestige with the great majority of the American public."

Winning the War

All are agreed that winning the war depends upon adequate numbers of properly trained men at the right spot at the right time with adequate supplies.

This means synchronizing our fighting forces with our productive capacity at home. Careful investigation has failed to reveal any over-all dealing with the problem and Paul McNutt as Director of the War Manpower Commission has come in for serious criticism for the failure to evolve a plan during the six months he has occupied this highly responsible office.

Industries in many sections of country—particularly in the aircraft industry—are now crying out for men as the result of depletion of manpower by the draft.

Farm Labor
Meanwhile it has become evident to everyone that no further men can be taken from the farms without crippling the supply of essential foodstuffs this coming year.

Agriculture this year produced about 12% more than last year and war demands are already setting 1943 goals considerably higher—perhaps as much as eight to ten percent.

The average number of farm workers this year has been about 6,600,000. Any further reduction in this number must inevitably mean a decline in production. Fear of this accounted for a mandatory provision in the recent amendment to the Selective Service Act directing the deferment of all essential farm labor.

Milk Supply
The milk situation is already becoming critical with constantly declining supplies of milk and directions already for curtailment in the consumption of butter and cheese and a generally restricted milk diet.

This is startling evidence in America of the problems which we face with milk considered one of the most nutritious articles of food.

Maine's Problem

Maine finds its milk problem accentuated not only by shortage of farm labor but also by the tendency of the Maine milk supply to flow to Boston because of the more attractive prices.

This problem was discussed in Washington this past week by Commissioner of Agriculture Carl R. Smith with members of the Maine delegation and representatives of the Office of Price Administration.

Subsidy has been adopted as a solution in the New York area but this is not a remedy that appeals to people in Maine or in New England generally.

Potato Prices

Potato prices are rapidly adjusting themselves to the new ceilings provided for this last week. Additional problems of price adjustment are presented by the failure to provide in the price program for the higher grades of Maine potatoes which have been developed in recent years under the leadership of Commissioner Smith.

This situation was presented to the officials of the Price Administration is the office of Senator Brewster in Washington this past week by Commissioner Smith and Sturges Dorrance, Sales Director, and their representations were sympathetically received.

They dealt in detail with the marketing of Super-Spuds and other special gradings of Maine potatoes. It is hoped that an order will be issued this week taking care of the packing and shipping of these varieties and allowing proper additional price differential.

Maine Delegation

Senator White and Congressman Fellows and Smith also participated in these discussions and were much encouraged by the cooperative attitude shown by the officials in charge of the price program.

Maine Airport Program

The Maine airport program continues to expand with many Maine airports still in process of development and a very comprehensive program for the development of the Brunswick airport announced by Naval authorities this past week.

The Brunswick airport will become one of the largest and best equipped in New England and will provide very substantial measures of protection to the great defense installations in the vicinity of Casco Bay.

NEWRY CORNER

The Circle Supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Sr. was well patronized last Friday night.

"Open House" was observed at Kimball School, Rumford Point, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week. Many of the parents visited the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Marquis have closed their house and moved into their largest cabin for the winter months.

Mrs. Leroy Thurston is visiting her parents for a short time.

Erma Richardson, a student nurse in the Community Hospital, is at present doing affiliation work in a hospital in Rhode Island.

Congratulations are being extended to Percy Walker on his recent marriage to Mrs. Ida Walker of Rumford.

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well
24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood. If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly. Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling. Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended by the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

RED TAPE IN THE WAR

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President, Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

(Editor's Note: Dr. George S. Benson is president of Harding College of Searcy, Arkansas, a co-educational institution noted for having no unemployed graduates. Dr. Benson found himself catapulted into the headlines in 1941 when he appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee, and Senate Finance Committee, and offered a concrete plan for cutting non-defense expenditures by two billion dollars. Self-proclaimed Harding College students recently hit the headlines when they asked the National Youth Administration to accept the return of funds allotted to them, requesting that the sum be invested in "tools for MacArthur's men.")

The time has come when the tax paying, bond buying, soldier-son contributing public should rise up on its hind legs and demand that Congress place a fixed statutory limitation on profits on war contracts. I refer to profits which remain after regular taxes have been paid. There's a right way and a wrong way to do this. President Roosevelt in his September 7 speech pointed out the right way when he said: "We must recapture through taxation all war profits that are not necessary to maintain efficient war production."

I back that proposal and method one hundred percent. And by the same token I oppose by one hundred percent the wrong way we have adopted by which we seek to recapture such war profits. This wrong way is through the renegotiation provisions of Public Law No. 528 which was recently amended. Excessive profits can be recaptured under this law but it bungles the job by also starting a whole train of disorders and imbalances just as a bungling lincoln does when he punches a half dozen new holes in a bucket while he fixes one old one.

I am interested in ferreting out and recapturing excessive war profits in the right way because the wrong way now used may nullify everything I tried to do in helping cut the waste out of government. I went before Congress last year and pleaded with them to cut out or cut down on a lot of non-defense spending and then I made more than 75 speeches over the nation trying to rouse the people to join in this economy crusade. The result of all the efforts along with those of other like-minded citizens was that Congress did cut one billion three hundred million dollars out of non-defense spending. What gets me all riled up again are the plans of the government which may waste hundreds of millions that we saved by such hard effort.

There's no reason or excuse in the world for this new waste except that governments always seem to bungle and fumble along unless the people make too great a fuss.

There are 3,000,000 war contracts held by from 20,000 to 40,000 contractors. The law permits the Army, Navy and Maritime Commission to renegotiate each of the 3,000,000 contracts (in cases where the contracts held by a contractor exceed $100,000) and eliminate excessive profits. Some have estimated that if the law is enforced it may require the services of as many as 200,000 new public servants. Think of what they will cost us taxpayers. Think of taking that many men away from productive war work to perform a job which the Internal Revenue bureau staff could do with little additional help!

Other Bad Points

This fact alone should force the law's revision at the earliest opportunity. But this waste of taxpayers' dollars for the useless services of possibly 200,000 men who should be helping win the war is not the law's only bad point, bad as is this waste and the confusion that comes from duplicated services. The really bad part of the law is that it creates three new bureaucracies, one each by the War and the Navy Departments and one by the Maritime Commission, and empowers them to make up their own rules and procedures as each sees fit. These arbitrary rulings in time may demoralize and thereby reduce output of war materials.

The American way of life and government means government by laws and not government by arbitrary rulings of several bureaucracies. We are grounded in that way of life and government. Let's not imperil its existence now by demoralizing war industry through the creation of layer on layer of bureaucracy to do what established bureaus can do better!

It's about time for Americans, who want the war won, to demand that this law be changed so that the elimination of excess profits on war contracts be handled by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Its regulations on what is allowable as an expense deduction are built upon years of experience and its staff is guided by court decisions. All business management is familiar with these regulations. Such a change would substitute procedure under recognized law for the present chaos.

Remember, the effect of all unnecessary delay in war production as well as every dollar wasted will be borne by each reader of this article. I expect to write more on this subject.

Free Christmas Cards

When Francis Scott Key saw Old Glory still waving "o'er the land of the Free and the Home of the Brave," he was inspired to write the immortal "STAR-SPANGLED BANNER." In this symbolic picture, the light from the star of Bethlehem, and the Phantom imaginary lights forming the likeness of Old Glory symbolize the Two Greatest Lights that ever came to bless humanity—freedom of speech, freedom of worship and personal liberty which will always flourish in our country if our nation continues to follow the principles of Christian Brotherhood that shone forth from the Star of Bethlehem centuries ago.

These Two Great Lights are making this Christmas a happier and brighter Christmas for all.

Your relatives, your friends, your boys fighting or in training for these high ideals—all will appreciate a Christmas Greeting Card this Holiday Season — Keep up the morale. Send Christmas Greeting Cards.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

These huge 60-ton heavy tanks cost $120,000, and America's automotive and locomotive plants are turning them out on a never-ending assembly line. Our army uses light tanks, weighing 14 tons, and medium tanks of 28 tons also, but we favor the medium tank over the other two.

These heavy tanks are needed for certain phases of modern warfare, and with their thick armor and heavy-gauge guns they are almost unstoppable. They are considered superior in gun power, in maneuverability and in the power of their huge tractor motors to Axis tanks. Americans everywhere are helping to pay for these monsters of war through their purchase of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day.

The Aerial Camera for use on Scout and Observation and Reconnaissance planes is essential to both the Army and Navy air forces in planning battle formations and in obtaining information on enemy fortifications and movements. They look something like a cannon, and cost about $3,400 apiece.

The aerial cameraman can plot wide territories in bold relief so that Army or Navy Intelligence can make accurate measurements of enemy territory. We need many of these cameras so necessary to the air arms of the Army and Navy. You can help buy them with your purchases of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day, and help your country go over its War Bond Quota.

BRYANT POND

Mrs. Inez Whitman, Correspondent

Franklin Grange met Saturday evening, Nov. 21, with a good attendance. This meeting was observed as young people's night with the following officers:

Master - James Russell

W. F. BOND

—Androscoggin District Ranger—
White Mountain National Forest

MANY HUNTERS are coming to the White Mountains this year in spite of the shortage of gasoline and tires. However there is this difference, they are camping in the woods and near the hunting area rather than staying in town and driving to the forest. As a result several campfire permits have been issued during the past three weeks, and several campers have used the improved facilities at the Forest Service camping funds. Camping this time of year is great sport if you like it and are well equipped to practice it. The abundance of deer in the woods this year and the comparatively small number of hunters should raise the percentage of those successful considerably. At Kilkenny the hunt is more successful for the period of time allowed than ever before.

LAST WEEK THE CLOSURE was removed from that area on the National Forest which lies in the drainage of Israel River on the east side of the Jefferson Notch Road. This is the only area on the Androscoggin District which is closed to entry, during the first season, as a result of the 1938 hurricane. With the end of the fire season it is now open and all of the closure signs have been removed. The area, however, was so badly damaged by the hurricane that travel through it except along the trails is very difficult. Although it is very difficult, it can attest to the fact that the birds are very plentiful.

A CHECK WAS RECENTLY MADE on the number of people contacted by the guards on the District this year. The figures obtained were as one would expect, a sharp reduction not only in the total number but also in the number from foreign states. In all in the count against a count of about 4000 people were represented 20,000 last year and for the first time residents of New Hampshire showed a greater number than any other state, although Massachusetts was a close second. Visitors from these two states represented about 85 percent of the total visitors to the Forest this year.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE
STARTED MONDAY

The 36th annual Christmas Seal Sale of the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated associations throughout the country opened Monday, Nov. 23, according to Dr. Kendall Emerson managing director of the national organization.

Eight million dollars has been set as the national total of the sale. "This sum is needed to carry on the intensified and expanded community work of the associations during the coming year in the effort to prevent the threatened wartime rise," Dr. Emerson said.

Ninety-five percent of the Seal Sale income remains in the state in which it is raised. Five per cent of each state's return goes to support the work of the National Association.

"As in all past wars tuberculosis is on the increase," Dr. Emerson states. "It has risen alarmingly in Europe and in Asia. So far, in this country, however preliminary figures for 1942 indicate that tuberculosis deaths will be the lowest on record. But, during the last year, the American people have not been subjected to real wartime conditions. The full impact of the war on the campaign to control tuberculosis will probably be felt during the coming year."

Overcrowded living and working quarters, with the resultant poor hygienic conditions, and lowered bodily resistance due to physical, mental and emotional strains will pave the way for the spread of this highly infectious disease, unless every possible precaution is taken by individuals and the community he warns.

In outlining the major activities of the tuberculosis associations for the coming year, Dr. Emerson stressed medical research, the expansion of X-ray surveys among industrial workers, particularly young women, full assistance to men rejected from the armed forces because of tuberculosis, cooperation in the health program of the High School Victory Corps, and a vigorous health education campaign to drive home to individuals the necessity and the ways of maintaining a high resistance to the disease.
